

HiWi-Job Advertisement Teaching Assistant Principles of Law & Economics, SOMMERSEMESTER 2017

Prof. Dr. Stefan Klonner invites applications for a tutor of this course at the AWI, Universität Heidelberg, which will be taught by Prof. Ram Singh, Delhi School of Economics. The contract will have a volume of 20 hours per month from April to July (four months). The task will be mainly to support Prof. Singh in the grading of problem sets and exams. Prerequisite is a sound knowledge of microeconomics. An additional advantage is knowledge of institutional economics and/or law & economics. Depending on qualifications, the wage rate per hour ranges between €9,16 and € 10,68. This ad addresses primarily students in the M.Sc. Economics. Exceptionally qualified applications from BSc Economics students will also be considered.

Please send your application (letter of intent, CV, transcripts) in one pdf file by 15.2.2017 to Christina Bommas, econ@sai.uni-heidelberg.de. Earlier applications are encouraged and will be considered immediately.