

Department of Political Science

Lecture Series on Governance and Politics in South Asia (Winter Semester 2016/17)

Dr. Annu Jalais Assistant Professor National University of Singapore	5 October 2016 Venue: SAI Room 316	Searching for the South Asian Collective via Transcendence, the Cow and the Tiger
Dr. Rinku Lamba Assistant Professor, Centre for Political Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University	14 November 2016 Venue: SAI Room 316	Conceptions of Religion in India: An Analysis of the Discourses of Bhakti and Modern Indian Political Thought
Dr. Andrew Flachs Volkswagen Foundation Fellow, Universität Heidelberg	21 November 2016 Venue: SAI Room 316	Cultivating Knowledge: Risk and Reward in Telangana Cotton Agriculture
Professor Gurharpal Singh School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London	1 December 2016 Venue: SAI Room 317	Religion and Democratic Politics in Contemporary India: the Bharatiya Janata Party-led National Democratic Alliance Government since 2014, Modi and the Religious Minorities
Professor K C Suri Department of Political Science University of Hyderabad	13 December 2016 Venue: SAI Room 316	Bharatiya Janata Party under Narendra Modi's Leadership: A Second Transformation?
Professor K C Suri Department of Political Science University of Hyderabad	16 January 2017 Venue: SAI Room 316	Party Switching in India: Understanding the Downside of Indian Democracy
Dr. Siddhartha Mukerji Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Babasabeh Bhimrao Ambedkar University, Lucknow	23 January 2017 Venue: SAI Room 316	Local Elections in Uttar Pradesh: Caste, Money and Violence

The Lectures will be held from 1600 hrs to 1800hrs

All are Cordially Invited!